- By using the site, you agree to make it a normal use of an Internet lambda user even if you have more important knowledge on the Internet.
- You agree not to attempt to alter the site in any way whatsoever.
- You will not attempt to collect information from the site other than for personal use. Otherwise, you may be sued for infringement of our copyrights, which is a counterfeit offence. This applies to both visual and textual content as well. For the latter, the texts, the data from our databases, the source codes of the site are part of it. Note that a copy of the information from our databases is a serious offense in addition to unfair competition that we will not tolerate.
- You understand that the site is not able to process and does not process any personal data of the users of the service. In this sense you will be careful not to transmit any personal information in the registration forms and especially in fields such as the username or any other field accepting a user input.
- You agree that your account can be deleted if the site finds that personal information has been transmitted in its databases.
- If the password is forgotten, the site offers an electronic match to reset the password. The email address used in this correspondence will only be used for contact purposes and will not be stored or used in any way for a promotional purpose.
- When you register, the site stores your IP address. The personal character of the IP address cannot be retained since it is not stable and changes very regularly. We only use it for the purpose of preventing a user's litigation or aberration.
- When registering, you agree not to transmit any information of a discriminatory, racist or abusive nature. If not, the site will delete your account and report your behavior to the justice system.

- The site uses cookies as well as third party tools that it integrates. By continuing your browsing on the site you accept them.
  - You agree that other conditions will be added over time. You agree to check these conditions regularly.
